Annual progress update on our commitments and the contribution we are making to achieve SDG targets for NCDs with the goal of creating replicable, sustainable solutions

Partners reporting out on progress and sharing findings with the broader global health community

Engaging with a third party academic institution to evaluate the program over the next three years
LESSONS LEARNED

Value of establishing common vision and commitment up front

But then be thoughtful about where consistency is needed and where flexibility can be designed in

Communicate, communicate, communicate

Periodic face-to-face discussions critical

Go to the next level of detail – build a common language

Design-in time and resources to solicit feedback
