

National Center for Medical Rehabilitation Research

Alison Cernich, Ph.D.

National Center for Medical Rehabilitation Research

- Mission: To foster development of scientific knowledge needed to enhance the health, productivity, independence, and quality-of-life of people with physical disabilities through basic translational, and clinical research
- Established in 1990 within NICHD to promote rehabilitation research within the NIH, coordinate efforts of the ICs, and promote collaboration with other federal agencies.
- Provide for funding of research projects, career development, small business grants, and research infrastructure.
- Lead for:
 - Trans NIH Medical Rehabilitation Coordinating Committee
 - Rehabilitation Research Plan
 - Federal Interagency Coordination

NCMRR Program Areas and Priorities

